Uttarakhand is the habitat of certain economically importance plants. Hence, the college has a Best Practice of implanting such plants. The college faces the challenge as some of the plants are steno topic, delicate and climate oriented and they fail to survive in different conditions. In future, the college has a plan to install greenhouses to provide habitat to such delicate plants. The Practice India is also rich in flora diversity. The Himalayas have a great wealth of medicinalplants and traditional medicinal knowledge. The Indian Himalayan region alone supports about 18,440 species of plants (Angiosperms: 8000 spp., Gymnosperm: 44 spp., Pteridophytes: 600 spp., Bryophytes: 1736 spp., Lichens: 1159 spp. and Fungi: 6900 spp.) of which about 45 are having medicinal properties and rest too are economically important in different aspects. Our state is a storehouse of a rich variety herbs and medicinal and aromatic plant species. Traditionally the folk people and the locales utilize the vegetation of their ambient environment in form of different products as food, fodder, fuel, medicine, fibre, timber etc. Among these useful species most of them are commercially exploited by drug dealers and at present many of such species come in threat categories. Therefore, there is an urgent need for conservation of such species for sustainable development. The members of threatened taxa belong to different families as Acanthaceae, Aceraceae, Asteraceae, Berberidaceae, Caryophyllaceae, Dioscoreaceae, Fabaceae, Hypoxidaceae, Lamiaceae and Liliaceae, etc. Our college has been established in 29.5-acre area. Of which more than 75 of the area still has a green cover. The college is trying to implant some of the important plants by marking the area, where the plantations can easily be managed and maintained. Department of Botany is playing a major role in the conception of idea along with its meticulous implementation. This department is enriched with efficient teaching staff, viz. Dr. A.K. PALIWAL, DR SHALABH GUPTA, along with postgraduate students and Ph.D. scholars. Hence, it is a best practice to culture and grow these plants in the gardens of college campus with an idea of maintaining a biodiversity enriched Botanical Garden. Evidence of Success Success of this best practice is based on the management and multiplication of the economically important plants along with making our students aware of the need for us to culture them. The college is taking special attention to make this venture a big success. The participation of students from different faculties, especially the teams of N.S.S. and Rovers and Rangers in sowing new plants in the orchards speak volumes of its success. Learned professors of Botany Department are making the students and other stakeholders of the college about the need for culturing and saving the heritage of our country from getting extinct, etc. These theoretical results indicate that this best practice is progressing with success. Problems Encountered and Resources Required There are certain temperature and climate sensitive plants, which needs a lot of care and attention. Insect pests are also attacking some of our crops. However, this attack is not serious and only few leaves are getting affected. The college do seek the expert opinion of Zoology teachers, who have specialized in Entomology, for the insect pest management and in toxicology. Certain programs, like TREE TALK should be organized in other institutions and awareness towards the medicinally, economically, culturally, ethno-botanically important flora and fauna. This will create an interest towards plants in the mind of our youth. Other institutions can make a small start by creating a nursery and then take it to the next level.

2. CLEAN OUR COLLEGE AND ENVIRONMENT Swachh Bharat Mission started by our Prime Minister Shri Narendra Singh Modi has values and concerns towards our country. Entire nation has adopted this mission in their life. Hence, it's our duty towards our nation and institution is to keep it clean and pollution-free. The objective of this practice is to provide clean environment to our students, as a healthy mind can grow in a clean and healthy environment. The perspective It is the continuation of the Swachh Bharat Mission, the college has taken remarkable steps towards achieving this mission.

The challenges prior to adopting this practice were: less feeling of belongingness towards the college infrastructure, less sanitation in washrooms, wrappers of tobacco/ gutka lying in college grounds and corridors, paper waste not being disposed properly, inadequate furniture in the classrooms, etc.

The Practice The college has seriously addressed the issues regarding the cleanliness of our college campus and insanitation in the staff and student washrooms. Strong message has been sent to all the stakeholders to consider the campus as their own house and given similar treatment to it. Steps have been taken to better sanitary conditions in the washrooms/ toilets of staff and students. This issue has also been kept and highlighted in the RUSA proposal. College has separate toilets/ washrooms for boys and girl students in every building and floor with proper labels and conditions. Usage of polythene products are banned in our state as well as in our college. Even the usage of disposable plastic glasses and cups is restricted. The college is spreading a message of awareness towards environmental protection and cleanliness amongst the students, especially in one-day and seven-day camps of N.S.S., gatherings and meetings of Rovers and Ranger/ N.C.C. The college has installed bins (USE ME) and dustbins near the corners of college buildings. College has Swacchta Committee, which organizes one hour, Shram Daan activity in every week so that awareness towards cleanliness should be made and inhibitions regarding the puniness of this job may be vanished from the minds of students. The principal, staff members and students take brooms in their hands and take part in this venture collectively. Surely, this practice is a success, as the awareness towards cleanliness is growing in the minds of our staff and students.

Washrooms are now in better conditions. College campus, corridors and lawns are clean. Walls of the campus are poster-less. This is just a start. Problems Encountered and assets Required College hardly faced any problem in inculcating this idea in the minds of students and other stakeholders, as they themselves had seen their Prime Minister cleaning the road with broomstick in his hands on Swachta Abhiyaan Diwas. However, college needs funding for upgrading and constructing more toilets/ washrooms as the student strength of this college is nearly eight thousand. RUSA has sanctioned certain amount for this work but more is needed. It is not difficult to spread this world. Most of the institution has already started this practice. However, awareness in the young minds of students needs to be generated.
